Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveller, long I stood
And I looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Your children are not your children.
They are the sons and daughters of life's longing for itself.
They come through you but not from you,
and though they are with you yet they belong not to you.
You many give them your love but not your thoughts.

For they have their own thoughts.

You may house their bodies but not their souls,
for their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow,
which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.

You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.
For life goes not backwards nor tarries with yesterday.

Kahil Gibran

Drama

In November of 1976, our class presented the play "The Miser" by Moliere on Saturday night of the Fine Arts Festival. The play was centered around a miserly man. He constantly hoarded money and his misery caused his son to steal from him behind his back. There are also several love themes throughout the play. The miser's daughter, Elise, wants to marry Volare, a friend of the family. However, her father has promised her to someone else. The miser too wants to marry, but the woman he wants to marry, Marianne, is engaged to Clemente, the miser's son. At the end, the miser gets his stolen money back, Elise marries Volare and Clemente marries Marianne.

Performing the play made our class feel more as a family. Everyone had a job and everyone worked together. Although we were often tired, the performance made everything seem worthwhile.

Susan Neufeld

Drama

This year for the Fine Arts Festival, our grade 11 class presented the play "Anne of Green Gables". It was adapted by Alice Chadwicke from the famous Canadian novel written by L. M. Montgomery. In the play, a lively and mischievous orphan girl, Anne, is mistakenly sent to the home of an elderly and sedate brother and sister, Matthew and Marilla Cuthbert. Marilla is set on sending Anne back to the orphanage but Matthew is even more set on keeping her. Anne stays and with the help of her vivid imagination, constantly gets herself into humorous predicaments. In the end, Anne saves the family money when their bank fails. Marilla finally softens and admits her deep affection for Anne.

Our class really enjoyed working together in rehearsing and in preparing the set and costumes. We also appreciate all that Mr. Erwin Tiessen did for our production.

Esther Tiessen 11

Operetta

The Operetta 1977

In the spring of 1977, both the junior and senior choirs practiced the operetta, "Rip Van Winkle", a children's story. For many weeks preparations were made, both in practicing the speaking and singing, and in preparing the sets and costumes. Many long, fun but tiring nights were spent at the school.

On March 11th and 12th, Friday and Saturday nights, the operetta was performed for the public. A third performance was held during the day. Various public schools were invited to attend. I am sure that all who participated in the operetta will never forget the experience.

Music Festival and Washington Trip — 1977

On Friday April 15, 1977, forty excited choir members boarded the bus and left for the long-awaited trip to Lancaster Pennsylvania and Washington D.C. That evening we performed at the Mennonite church in Johnstown, where we were hosted for the night.

The next morning we headed for Lancaster, and after stopping for a Big Mac, spent most of Saturday afternoon and evening rehearsing with eight other choirs. On both Saturday and Sunday, however, we were able to find some time to tour the lovely campus and to talk to students from other schools. After the evening rehearsals our bus took us to the New Holland Mennonite church where our hosts were waiting.

The next morning our choir led a Sunday morning service in this church. After lunch, we left for Lancaster Mennonite High and the highlight of the weekend. The afternoon and evening performances passed quickly, but the worship experiences of these programs will not be forgotten.

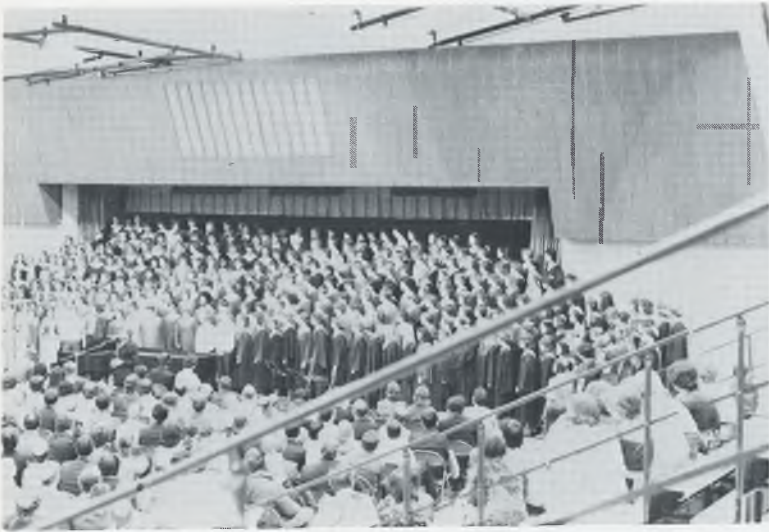

On Monday morning, after good-byes to our hosts and new friends, we toured the Amish village in Lancaster and the M.C.C. headquarters at Akron.

We were now headed for Washington. On Monday evening we dressed in our best and went to the John F. Kennedy centre for the Performing Arts for the performance of the play "Shanandoah".

All of Tuesday and Wednesday morning were spent touring — we saw many of Washington's famous sites. By Wednesday afternoon we were tired of tours, so that when we reached Gettysburg, there wasn't much enthusiasm. Yet our lack of energy didn't prevent us from socializing on our last evening.

We arrived home early Thursday evening, grateful for the experience of the trip, but equally grateful to see familiar faces again.

(Kathy Neufeld 12)

Music Festival

Music Festival 1977-1978

With the sound of a vehicle approaching, forty eager Choir members, as well as three equally eager adults, dashed from the school and crowded the sidewalk.

Our long awaited trip was about to begin! The enthusiasm was felt, as well as heard, as we anxiously crowded onto the bus.

Our destination was Kidron, Ohio where we were to participate in the yearly Music Festival, on April 8th and 9th; this year to be hosted by the Central Christian Highschool students and staff.

After a warm welcome, we, as well as eight other Mennonite school students eagerly anticipated meeting and singing under the direction of our guest conductor, Marles Preheim.

The performances given on April 9th were evidence of the hard preparation by the guest conductor, as well as the individual choir directors.

As we departed for home, talk of the weekend saturated the bus. We had made new friends, sung to our hearts' content, established closer relationships within our own choir and felt that the long hours of practise, had been worthwhile.

For some of us, this was to be our last choir tour, while others were already anticipating the coming year's Festival. To all who participated, the inner satisfaction and memories of the weekend would linger long in our thoughts.

Spiritual Emphasis

The United Mennonite Educational Institute came to exist in answer to a definitely-felt need of the Mennonite congregations in Ontario. Our institute aims at the promotion of intellectual growth and the acquisition of knowledge, and also at the development of a truly Christian character of the student — the cultivation of his spiritual and moral faculties. Its aim therefore, is to help the student to attain in full measure a true faith in God. This is strived at, not only through the studies of the Bible, Church History and Mennonite History, but also a spiritual emphasis stressed in everyday activities at our school.

Four years have gone by —
We really had to try.
On that long winding road
We all carried our load.
Challenges will come and go
We must accept them and grow.
Like a free bird flying high
We carry on beneath the sky;
and if you find a friend
hand on to him till the end.
And to begin every day
you must learn to pray:
Lord give us grace that we,
may live in peace with Thee.

Mike Unger
